Hoegh LNG FRSU arrives in Colombia

Norwegian shipowner Hoegh LNG's Hoegh Grace floating storage regasification unit (FSRU) is being installed at the port of Cartagena, Colombia and is expected to start commercial operations in December.

The company said on Wednesday that the 170,000 cm vessel had arrived and was ready to receive a commissioning cargo. Shipping data shows that the ship had left Singapore on May 9, then sailed to Egypt and Argentina before docking in Colombia on November 1.
